

Ladies' and men's broomball teams to participate in tournament

By Nancy Fulton

The early game in ladies broomball last week saw the Tannery team who have caught on fire as of lately, face the Mississippi team.

Tannery took an early lead on a goal by Jean Kerr after being set up by Karen Bennett.

Before the first period ended Tannery had taken a comfortable 2-0 lead. Marg Thom fed Gay Wilson the ball. Gay made no mistake in finding the net for the goal. There was no more scoring in the first period.

Mississippi came back in the second when Lois Ford got the ball over to her linemate, Wendy McNabb. Wendy, who has figured in on her team's scoring in the last three games, did once again with a good shot for the goal.

Mississippi, with plenty of time left, found the net once again. This time Julie Julian gave the ball to Colleen Brownlee who scored to tie things all up.

Tannery's Gay Wilson then went to work again. She took a pass from Cherry Linton and beat the Mississippi goalie with her fast shot.

Tannery's Gay Wilson was not finished scoring yet. She came back down the ice and took a pass from Lorry Sheldon. Gay's shot was in the net for the hat trick and a 4-2 lead.

Mississippi knew they had their work cut out for them down two goals with time running out.

Mississippi's speedster Susan McKay got the ball out front to Lois Ford who banged it in to narrow the gap.

Tannery got an assurance goal from Jean Kerr with the assist going to Marg Thom.

Final score: Tannery, 5, Mississippi, 3.

Tannery's Gay Wilson picked up a hat trick working with different linemates on all three goals. Gay, who has one of the hardest shots in the league, is also a very versatile player in that she can adjust to play defence or forward depending which spot her team is short a player.

Jean Kerr from the Tannery who works hard every game out was rewarded for her efforts as she scored two goals for her team.

The second game saw Almonte and Cavanagh, the two teams that are battling for first place take to the ice. Cavanagh lit up the scoreboard early when the McKenna-MacGregor-Reid line broke away.

Linda MacGregor carried the ball into Almonte's end of the ice and passed off to Pat Reid in the corner. Pat flipped the ball out front to an open Darlene McKenna who beat Almonte's goalie high for the goal.

Both teams missed glorious chances to score at both ends of the ice.

Almonte came back to score when Colleen Good passed the ball to defenceman Brenda Deugo. Brenda stepped in over the blue line and let go a booming shot that deflected off a Cavanagh player and into the net.

There was no more scoring in the first period.

The second period saw Cavanagh regain the lead on a goal by once again Darlene McKenna from Pat Reid.

Cavanagh were able to keep Almonte off the scoreboard until the dying minutes.

With less than three minutes to play Louise Powers-Wagorn fed Brenda Deugo the ball. Brenda, once again from just inside the blue line, let go a hard shot that went through a maze of people including the goalie and into the net to tie the game.

Final score: Almonte, 2, Cavanagh, 2.

Almonte's defenceman Brenda Deugo took two hard shots towards the net and scored on both shots (I think it was the new pants Brenda!)

Almonte's forward Colleen Good, who had a good game went down hitting the ice hard near the Cavanagh net late in the second period. Fortunately she was only shaken up and was able to finish the game.

Minden to host large dog sled derby

Minden's main street will be going to the dogs once again this Jan 11 and 12 as the community hosts the largest sled dog derby in the province. Organizers expect another record turnout with teams travelling from points throughout Ontario, Quebec and northern US to vie for the more than $2,000 in prize money.

The drivers and dogs, mostly huskies, compete in two classes. The four dog class covers a four-mile course while eight dog teams travel eight miles. Competing against the clock, the team with the best time over the two heats, one Saturday and one Sunday, will claim top prize money.

Over 50 teams took part last year, making the Minden Sled Dog Derby the largest event of its kind in Ontario. Organizers expect a similarly large attendance this year. One of the big attractions for drivers and spectators alike, is the main street start. The community's main thoroughfare is closed to traffic as spectators line the starting chute cheering on the teams that leave at one minute intervals. The trail snakes through the community then head off into the bush where drivers and dogs are alone with the winter landscape.

The course brings the team back to town for a dash down the mainstreet for an exciting finish.

While the races are the main focus for the weekend, the "pit" provides an interesting diversion for spectators. The area is open to the public and many find it interesting to watch the drivers tend to their teams. Most drivers and handlers are keen to answer questions about the sport and their team.

An added feature for the first day of racing is the Child and Mutt race in which youngsters with racing sled and a single dog compete in a dash down Main Street. The children are as keen as the older drivers and provide an interesting sight to the weekend program.

This year's Minden Sled Dog Derby is sponsored in part by Martin Feed Mills of Elmira, makers of Techni-Cal Dog Food. Martin's has generously donated the $2,000 purse and will be providing all participants with a sample bag of their dog food.

Spectators interested in enjoying the Minden Sled Dog Derby will be especially pleased when they discover there is no charge to watch. The spots along the start/finish chute and throughout the route, are free for the taking.

Top angler throws them back

The 1985 Ontario Angler of the Year, selected from all entrants in the "Molson" Big Fish Contest, is Nipigon sportsman Ray Dupuis. 52. Dupuis was chosen by contest judges for his first and fourth place finishes in the Live Release speckled trout class, and his enthusiasm for teaching his children the principles of conserving the speckled trout fishery in the Nipigon area.

Dupuis has been chasing northern pike, lake trout, walleye and speckled trout for almost half a century and has been live-releasing many of his catches for the past 30 years. His wife reports that he fishes at least two or three times a week from mid-July to September. The speckled trout that earned him first place was caught in the Nipigon River and measured 23 inches in fork length and 14 inches in girth.
