

In and about Almonte

Exist: A Respite Day Program doesn't yet exist, but a survey for one is being done by Lanark County District Health Council. The Seniors' Home Support is just one of the agencies asked for input into this survey regarding their present clientele's needs, but there are likely numerous community seniors from whom the council should be hearing. So, if you have a need for structured activity/relief or caregivers vacation relief, please contact Linda Dwyer at 256-4700 by Oct. 14.

Having Silvert's Fashion come to Almonte Nursing Home is always an exciting time to go shopping in ease "at home", as was done on Thursday.

Friday the News and Views group discussed Thanksgiving, and made lists of what they're thankful for.

The first Crafts class on Monday made a Thanksgiving Day tree, with fall decorations hanging on it. Very colorful. Decorations were also put up in the dining room.

The Baking Club made muffins for all to enjoy at tea.

At the Sept. 18 Almonte Horticulture meeting, Carol Crawford was elected secretary to replace recently resigned Ann Ogletree. Awards were given out at the meeting to those who entered in the District Show in Pembroke Sept. 1. There was a good selection of many kinds of bulbs from Suzanne Patry to buy, with 15 per cent profit going to the club. The speaker for the evening was Adele Watson, coordinator of Master Gardeners, who said that most problems with house plants was either over or under-watering, and using too little or too much fertilizer. If plants inside or out don't grow well, move them to different light. The Goddards will be planting new bulbs in the town beds, and the old ones were sold at the Arena Garage Sale.

If you've noticed skunks digging holes, or raccoons rolling up the sod in your yard, it's because they've been feasting on white grub, which will hatch into June-bugs next spring. Look like there will be a bumper crop.

Any member and spouse of the Horticulture Society who took part in the "potato trials", are invited to a potluck dinner at the home of Helen Halpenny, Oct. 13. Bring a dish of your choice made with potatoes. This can include appetizer, main course, salad, dessert.

The Sept. 27 Birthday Party at Fairview Manor was for Cecelia Kealey, Mabel Anderson, Jack Aselford, Emma Smithson, Christena Caldwell, and Hazel Gardiner. The musicians for the party were "Voice of Life", a versatile music group that plays gospel, folk, country, old and recent pop tunes, especially likes playing for seniors, hospitals and benefits.

Agnes Iveson is teaching an oil-painting class, meeting Fridays. The pet-visiting group came Monday with the gentle doberman, and a cat and kittens. It's so nice to hold and talk to these lovely creatures. Tuesday, the Easy-Care Fashion Show was interesting, and gave residents the opportunity to buy right there.

Nine residents enjoyed the beautiful country drive to Calabogie, where they had lunch at Weagie Wigets Tea Room.

"Just Casual" clothing suits owner

By Lois Tuffin
Gazette Reporter

Sharon Gourgon seems to have fallen into the casual clothing business, and it fits just fine.

"It (operating her own clothing store) was always something I knew I was going to do," said the easy-going entrepreneur. "I'm so happy that it turned out this way."

Mrs. Gourgon said she has not had one slow day since the Bridge Street business opened in mid-August. As a matter of fact, sales were so brisk the first week she had to dash off to Montreal to replenish her stock of casual clothes and accessories.

A former employee of Duds, a clothing store that used to operate on Mill Street, Mrs. Gourgon was working in the accounting department of an Ottawa engineering firm when she was laid off in March. After sending out 35 resumes without any luck, she figured now would be a good time to try to start her own clothing store.

Her May wedding to husband Greg slowed the process, but right after she began doing her market research necessary for a New Ventures loan. She can recite how many people live in the area, how many articles of clothing they buy in a year and where they would buy them from.

Another prerequisite for the loan was a registered business name. "Greg and I were sitting and thinking when it just came," explained Mrs. Gourgon. "I said 'I'm going to have just casual clothing.' It just stuck when I said it. I think it says something about what I carry here."

Even without small business experience, Mrs. Gourgon said opening "Just Casual" was easier than one would think.

'Just Casual's' only employee, Sharon Gourgon said she fills her days rotating stock, cleaning and taking inventory. She said she hasn't had one slow day since the store opened in August.

"The best part is being your own boss," she said. "It's easier to put in work when it comes back to you."

With a clientele in age ranging between 15 and 65, Mrs. Gourgon said she stocks a wide variety of clothes, and keeps a list for specific requests. She describes her merchandise as good quality "middle-of-the-line" price and style.

She said being an Almonte native with her husband working as a plumber in town helps her business. She added because of her relatively young age, 23 years, she can relate to both the teenager and the working woman and offer what they want to wear.

A self-professed compulsive shopper, Mrs. Gourgon said she has learned to control herself. "When it's your own store you don't take as much as you think you would because it's your bread and butter," she said. "But you buy double if you know you're going to take it," she added with a smile.

Future plans for the store include a unisex line, and hopes for a junior clothing line for ages seven to 16.

Birth Announcement

LALONDE

Hi, my name is
MARY ELIZABETH "MARY-BETH"

I made my much awaited arrival on TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 25th, weighing 9 lbs., 6 ounces.

I am a new little farm hand for my very proud parents, James and Margaret (nee Lemieux) Lalonde. I am the first grandchild for both John and Jean Lemieux of Almonte and Stewart and his late wife Betty Lalonde of Almonte. I am the first great-grandchild for Jean and Violet Lemieux of Ottawa. My Mommy wishes to thank my Daddy and all family and friends for all the help they've given her over the past few months.

A special thank you for a very patient and caring Dr. Heather Abramenko and the nurses and staff at the Almonte General Hospital.
