Exciting new 4-H projects for new year

By Rita Byvels
Rural Organization Specialist

Young people interested in learning about photography and how to bake have an excellent opportunity to do so in the new 1994 4-H projects.

The Ontario 4-H Council and the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food have developed 4-H Baking and Photography projects for release in 1994.

Other projects developed for this year include Wearable Art, Woodworking and Energy Conservation. 4-H projects updated for 1994 include beef, dairy, and horse.

4-H is a personal development program for youth ages 10-21. Members develop leadership skills and learn life skills and agrifood knowledge in a "learn to do by doing" environment.

Lanark Farm Report

The variety of projects that have been developed in the last number of years indicates that 4-H is no longer just for farm kids, as many people still believe. In 1992 youth enjoyed 4-H drama, sewing and consumer clubs.

There are more than 65 different 4-H projects to select from. The new baking project is called "Batter Up". Members will learn proper measuring techniques and methods for baking muffins, cakes and pies.

In the photography club members will learn the parts of a camera, and how to take landscape, posed and action shots.

4-H clubs meet for approximately 12 hours of meeting time, and celebrate the conclusion of the club with an achievement program where members share their new skill and knowledge. Clubs generally meet over a 2-5 month time frame.

4-H is administered and sponsored in partnership by the Ontario 4-H Council and the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

Local volunteers deliver hot meals

Home Support volunteers care.

Have you noticed them going from house to house every day of the week at noon delivering meals to seniors and disabled?

The meals are intended for people who do not have the skills, or the health to prepare a meal for themselves. They are also for those who have special diet requirements.

In some special circumstances the recipients are lonely and isolated, and it is determined that a friendly visitor with a hot nutritious meal would be good "therapy".

The volunteers are delivering up to 19 meals a day, seven days a week.

By picking up the prepared meal at either the Almonte General Hospital or Fairview Manor, and delivering it to the client's home, the volunteer brings a ray of sunshine into the lives of people who may be varied in their circumstances, and ages.

The volunteers who provide this regular service are committed to a one or one-and-a-half hour job, once a week.

It is true there is no dollar and cent pay for this job, but the volunteers stay on, and on and on.

The present volunteers are Alan Armstrong, Sean O'Brien, Keith Brydges, Sue Cannon, Mary Lou Curtis, Natasha Hollbach, Angus Jamieson, Olive Kennedy, Shirley and Joe Pringle, Elsie Stanley and Mary Wismer.

Home Support is sponsored by the Almonte Community Development Corporation.

W.I. meets over Christmas dinner

PAKENHAM — The December meeting of the Pakenham Women's Institute began with a potluck supper at 6 p.m. in the Anglican Church hall on Dec. 14. Leaders of the Pakenham 4-H Club had been invited and a delicious meal was served.

After the ode and Mary Stewart collection, the minutes were read and financial statement given. The institute had held a very successful craft and bake sale in November for which thanks go out to all who helped.

Correspondence was read which included a letter from the Federation of Women's Institutes of Ontario regarding fees for the coming year.

The members discussed giving a donation to the Lift Fund at the Stewart Centre. It was decided to hold the matter over until the members hear more details about this endeavor.

Roll call proved very interesting with each one doing her bit "to bring Christmas joy to all."

This was followed by a gift exchange. Everyone agreed that a pleasant evening had been had by all.

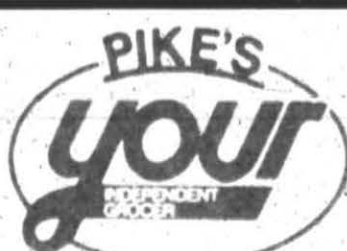

Next meeting will be held at the home of Mary Paige on Jan. 18 at 8 p.m. New members are welcome.
