

From ski hills to gridirons Almonte teams finish on top

January

On the strength of three shut-out wins, the Almonte Major Mytes took home top honors from a Petawawa hockey tournament.

In the semi-final match the locals bounced Pembroke 8-0, qualifying them for the championship tussle where they blanked the host Petawawa squad 6-0.

Almonte clinched the ladies' regular season broomball title with a 1-0 overtime win over Cavanagh's.

Both sides had several opportunities to light up the scoreboard in regulation time, but goaltenders Carolyn Wagner of Almonte and Cavanagh's Nancy Fulton managed to keep the snipers at bay.

The opening minutes of the extra period featured end to end play before Almonte forward Joyce Ford converted a perfect feed from defenceman Cathy O'Connell to decide the game.

Cavanagh turned the table the following week in the annual league tournament, downing Almonte by the same 1-0 score in the final.

On the men's side, Sno White capitalized early on its chances and went on to defeat Thompson's 3-0 to garner the tournament title.

The Almonte and District High School's ski team proved again it was the king of the hill winning the overall title at an invitational meet at Mount Pakenham.

For the girls, Almonte grabbed first and second place in the combined final results. Joanne Cavanagh won the slalom and giant slalom, while Melanie Taylor finished in the runner-up spot in both events.

As for the Almonte boys, they claimed the top three placings. Ryan Whetung was first in the combined standings, with Matt Mould and Derek Kilburn.

The Almonte B Eagles hockey team went undefeated in four games to win a tournament in Clayton, N.Y.

In the championship final, the Almonte squad defeated Alexandria Bay 7-4.

February

The ADHS ski team dominated competition throughout the month starting with an invitational meet at Mount Pakenham.

In this event the girls' and boys' teams placed first in slalom, giant slalom and downhill.

The girls placed four racers in the top 10 and eight in the top 20. The boys' teams made an even stronger showing placing seven racers in the top 10 and eight in the top 15.

The team dominated the Lanark County final the next week on the same hill as it managed to capture the grand aggregate trophy.

On the girls' side, Joanne Cavanagh impressed again finish first overall ahead of teammate Jessica Whetung.

The boys' squad was the class of the meet with Derek Kilburn leading all racers, Ryan Whetung finishing second, Kent Keuninckx, Mark Somerton and Steve Gomme third through fifth and Matt Mould seventh.

It was onto Mont Cascades next for the EOSSAA meet where both the girls' and boys' teams turned in another impressive performance placing first overall.

The boys were led by Matt Mould who placed third in slalom and second in giant slalom. Joanne Cavanagh was tops among the girls winning the slalom event and finishing second in giant slalom.

March

The scene was pure Canadiana.

Molstar Communications chose a frozen pond in Ramsay Township for a film chronicling the history of hockey in Canada.

The 15-minute video was shot for the new Hockey Hall of Fame in Toronto. Associate producer Julie Noorden said the film will be "a series of vignettes... joined together with actuality footage," and will be shown up to four times per hour at the hockey shrine's Molson Theatre.

Almonte's Adam Jezewski was among the select few honored at the annual Ottawa Valley Junior B Hockey League awards banquet.

The Carleton Place Kings' right winger was named to the Valley Division's all-rookie squad, despite toiling all year with a last place club.

The ADHS ski team — Hicks on Sticks — proved once more it knows how to win.

Almonte proved it at the All-Ontario Alpine Ski Championship in Mattawa, winning the gold medal for best closed combined team.

For the team's efforts, it received the North Bay RCMP Cup.

The Almonte Thunderblades split its two games at the EOSSAA high school hockey championships.

A 5-3 tournament opening game loss to Hawkesbury proved costly as it eliminated the locals from advancing to semi-final action. Almonte bounced back from the disappointing loss to down Kingston 5-2 in its second and final game.

Champions

The Almonte Thunderbolts capped another impressive football season in November by capturing their third Lanark-Renfrew title in four years with a crushing 30-1 win over Renfrew. Former ADHS vice-principal Bill Kennedy presented defensive standout Dan Botham (#56) with the Ken Sweeney Memorial Trophy.

April

The Bantam A CAPs rebounded from a one game deficit to capture the Lanark-Carleton Hockey League championship series.

After losing the opener of the four-point final 2-0 to Osgoode-Rideau on the road, the CAPs battled back with a 3-2 win on home ice and a series-clinching 2-0 triumph on foreign ice.

Almonte's Petite "B" team clobbered Cumberland 7-2 in the final of the National Capital Region Ringette League championship.

The win culminated a year that saw the local squad capture the regular season title and sweep through playoff action undefeated.

Almonte defeated Kingston 9-1 and Nepean 4-0 on the road to the final.

The best of the best were honored at the Almonte-Carleton Place Mens' and Ladies' Broomball League awards banquet.

The locals qualified for the final by edging Milton 58-56 in double overtime in a thrilling semi-final matchup.

May

Almonte and District High School's track and field team started the season with two successful meets.

In Arnprior the squad captured six gold medals with Chris Burgess garnering the senior boys' overall title by winning the 100 metres and triple and long jump events.

In Ottawa, the orange and black track machine tallied more impressive results, setting meet records and establishing themselves as a team to be reckoned with in eastern Ontario.

Following a year's absence, the local high school track meet made a triumphant return. A meet organized at ADHS for the junior grades attracted outstanding participation.

ADHS's track and field team was leaps and bounds ahead of the competition at the county championships.

The team scored an impressive total of 809 points, well ahead of its closest rival Carleton Place, who finished a distant second close to 100 points behind.

players on its 1993-94 protected list.

Dan Botham, Rob McKay, Paul Scott and James Wood were all invited to attend the fall trout camp.

Almonte-Pakenham fell 6-5 to Kanata in the semi-finals of the Little League district playdowns.

The locals held 3-0 and 5-3 leads but couldn't hold off the relentless Kanata offence in the end.

September

A new set of guidelines and standards for the approximately 24 teams in the Carleton Place Minor Hockey Association and the Carleton Place-Almonte-Pakenham organization were introduced.

Jack Denovan, a Level III minor hockey coach, drafted the new standards with the co-operation and guidance of the two local minor hockey groups.

Denovan stressed the standards aren't designed to tell people how to do their jobs, but to provide a direction and "baseline" from which to proceed.

Chris Burgess, Almonte and District High School's premier long and triple jumper, earned a $20,000 track scholarship to an American university.
